ASSESSMENT OF SKILLS FOR MIGRATION TO AUSTRALIA

The Australian Institute of Welfare and Community Workers Inc. is the authorised relevant assessing authority for the assessment of overseas-qualified welfare workers applying to migrate to Australia. This assessment is issued in connection with a proposed application to migrate to Australia. It does not automatically entitle the individual to employment in Australia, nor is it an offer of employment.

NAME:

Date of Birth

AIWCW Ref. File No.

ASSESSMENT: The skills of the applicant have been assessed by the relevant assessing authority for the nominated skilled occupation of Welfare Worker with the following result:

OCCUPATION: Welfare Worker - ASCO 2512-11 – SUITABLE*

*Suitable under AIWCW Transition arrangements in place for ASCO to ANZSCO code migration. The transition period is for applicants who complete an AIWCW approved Diploma qualification and submit their application to AIWCW between 01/07/2010 – 31/12/2012.

The Australian Institute of Welfare and Community Workers Inc. (AIWCW) has examined the documents submitted relating to the individual's qualifications and experience in the identified occupation. On the evidence available, the AIWCW has determined that based on AIWCW membership eligibility criteria, the individual satisfies the professional and academic requirements for entry to the occupation.

This certificate is not valid without being embossed with the Common Seal of the AIWCW and it remains valid for a period of three years from the date of issue.

Should migration to Australia be approved, it is essential that all original documents supporting the application, including qualifications, employment experience, and references be brought to Australia. It is the responsibility of the applicant to seek information about employment prospects in Australia and it is important to be aware that Australian labour market conditions may vary significantly over time and between states and territories. Your attention is also drawn to the enclosed Skill Matching leaflet.
