FOR THE 2012 SCHOOL FOR SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURS INCUBATOR PROGRAM APPLY NOW

- Are you starting or growing a project or business that will benefit society, the environment or your community?
- Want a learning environment that is practical, action-oriented, and relevant to your project or business?
- Need a combination of personal support and business skills development to move your project or business forward?
- Want to be part of a vibrant community of like-minded people working to create change?

The School for Social Entrepreneurs runs a unique learning program from Sydney and Melbourne for entrepreneurial individuals across the country who have an idea or business that has a social or environmental benefit.

Applications are now open for the 2012 program, which runs from March to November 2012.

We are not a traditional school. Our programs are non-academic and based on a 'learning by doing' approach. Students gain practical business and life skills over the 9-month part-time program that they can apply directly to their ventures. The program includes group study sessions, individual coaching, project visits and facilitated action-learning sets.

Our students have ranged in age from 20 to 65 and have diverse backgrounds and ventures. For example, work training for young people and people with disabilities; renewable energy projects in developing countries; and Indigenous arts enterprises.

To be eligible for the program, applicants must:

- Have an idea/project that has a community or environmental benefit.
- Demonstrate passion, drive and commitment to their idea/project.
- Have ownership of their idea/project and autonomy for decision-making.
- Be able to commit to the 9-month program. (contact us for dates)

Students pay a $1,500 contribution fee towards the program, plus travel expenses incurred. SSE provides full and partial scholarships to cover the remainder of the $24,000 program cost.

We are keen to hear from people all across Australia, so please get in touch even if you are not from Melbourne or Sydney.

First round applications close midnight 11th December. Second-chance application close date to be announced.
